Context (Where Found / Viewed / Read?)

A friend showed it to me

Content / CD / Summary / Precis (Say? "Plot? Setting/Situation? Key lines/phrases scenes, etc?)

This photograph depicts a United States marine feeding a neglected bunny with compassion and love. The bunny had been neglected and forgotten by its mother, and the marine took it into his care and fed it. The photo clearly shows the cute, petite, and innocent looking rabbit carefully eating out of a tube of some sort.

Content / CM / Meaning? / Theme(s)?

This photo is priceless. Bunnies are cute no matter what usually, but baby bunnies are amazingly precious, especially when standing on hind legs with cute little arms hanging down. The theme of this photo is love and compassion. A poor little bunny should never have to suffer, but it did, and this man took it in and took care of it, showing care for God's creation and love towards nature.

Form (Diction? Construction Terms? Symbolism?)

This is a very spontaneous picture, and although it is not of the highest quality, it still gets a good point across. It captured a poetic moment where a meek little bunny is being helped out by a big strong powerful marine soldier in one of the most powerful countries in the world.

Commentary (What do you want to say? Why like? Questions? Synthesis / Allusions-Connections / Relevance to personal experience, to literature, 20Q's? etc.)? "Poetic" Traits?

This picture is poetic because it shows the big man helping out the little man, the less fortunate being helped out by someone who is fully capable of helping it out. Usually, marines can be seen as cold men who want to control their muscle and put it to use. This man is being compassionate and bringing emotion to a group of people who usually wouldn't be considered emotional. This photo contains traces of physical beauty and the traits that humans encompass that are poetic, a two-in-one.
